THE MUSEUM

Dedicated to Leonardo da Vinci, the Museum of Science and Technology, is located in the heart of Milan. It is the largest science and technology museum in Italy. The unique atmospheres of the ancient monastery, of the Rail Transport Building and of the Air & Water Transport Building turn it into an exceptional location for memorable events.

The historical spaces of the Museum are ideal for conferences, presentations, product launches, gala dinners, performances and fashion shows, but also to tell stories and leave space for creativity through exhibitions, shootings and movie sets.

Evocative trails, guided tours to the Leonardo Gallery, the Toti submarine and thematic exhibitions, offer guests an unforgettable experience bridging history and modernity, art, science and technology.

The Staff of the Museum Events Office will be delighted to support you in the study and design of your customized event.
